Historic Fort Morgan

South Baldwin County offers good fishing, an outing of fishing, frolics, and a look at historic Fort Morgan.

Nearly as old as the United States, Fort Morgan is one of America's most impressive fortresses. Its thick, ageless walls have withstood the test of time and the battering cannon fire of a hundred hostile ships.

The fort is shaped like a five-pointed star. Slaves used ground sea shells for mortar when they built the walls and enclosed buildings in the early 1820's. This mortar between the brick masonry has since turned to a substance much like marble.

The fortress guarded Mobile Bay during the War Between the States. When overwhelming Union naval forces finally subdued the Confederate stronghold in 1864, they photographed the damage done in the deadly siege. These 40 large, authentic pictures are shown in the fort's on-site museum.

Fort Morgan files a parade of flags which includes: Spanish, French, British, United States, Republic of Alabama, Confederate States and State of Alabama banners.

Baldwin County borders Mobile Bay and the Gulf of Mexico and both known for good salt water fishing. The area bounds with small rivers, creeks and streams angling.

Outdoorsmen can fish these waters for Pompano, King or Spanish Mackerel and Dolphin until November 1. Fighting Tarpon, Alabama's official state fish, are taken through November. Most fish, including bass, bream, speckled trout, crappie, catfish, Red Snapper, grouper, flounder, and a dozen other varieties, including sharks, may be taken any time. Fish and hook get together.

Several comfortable Baldwin motels front streams and cater to families who want a weekend of fishing often combined with leisurely strolling on nearby Gulf shore beaches. More people are discovering that Alabama's beaches are still roomy, sunny showplaces after Labor Day. Defying tradition, fun lovers beach comb the snow white sand, soak up the lingering sun or even brave the cooling Gulf surf.

South Baldwin beckons.

FIRE DEATHS
New York - Every 24 seconds a fire breaks out somewhere in the United States, and these fires take a human life every 44 minutes, reports the Insurance Information Institute.

HOW MUCH DID A COLOR TV COST 25 YEARS AGO?

Since it didn't exist 25 years ago, there is no fair way to estimate the cost. The same reasoning applies to the cost of today's prescriptions. Most of today's drugs didn't even exist 25 years ago, so they could not be bought at any price. When you consider the lives that have been saved, the rapid cures that have resulted from modern medicines, it's no wonder we say...

National 4-H Week Time To Support Youth

The week of September 24 through October 1 is set aside as National 4-H Week. The following paragraphs explain a little of the work of 4-H Clubs. Many people have heard of 4-H Club all of their lives but really do not know what it is. 4-H is an organization of boys and girls both rural and urban between the ages of 9 and 19, pledged to improve their head, heart, hands, and health. A member must carry out one or more projects and agree to follow the 4-H ideals and standards. There is no membership fee.

In 32 local clubs in Coffee County, there are 1,150 members. Almost half of these live in towns or cities. The purpose of 4-H Club is to help boys and girls discover, develop, and use their talents and to develop mentally, physically, and spiritually into tomorrow's responsible leaders. The opportunities which 4-H provides for boys and girls are to start a small business of their own, to learn, to lead and at the same time to learn to cooperate, and to develop the qualities that will make them good citizens.

Projects 4-H members may carry vary greatly. The 4-H'er chooses those he likes best and which fit his whole situation. Some of the popular areas are personal development, engineering, family living, conservation, production and marketing, and home management. There are several new projects which may interest a certain group. These are 4-H photography, career exploration, 4-H horse projects, and money management.

It is important that the 32 local volunteer leaders, most of them teachers and parents, who guide the members of each club. Parents can gain a lot by helping their children in their 4-H Club work. As a 4-H parent, you are a parent first, but also a friend, a companion, an adviser, a co-worker, a shock absorber, and even a part in a storm. A parent should grow with 4-H. They can personally gain much pleasure and real satisfaction from taking part in 4-H and letting 4-H live in their own lives. Parents can widen their horizon by associating with boys and girls and their leaders. Mothers and fathers can get closer to their own children through 4-H Club work.

The First Baptist Y. W. A.'s next meeting will be held October 5 with Margie Bruce as hostess. The schedule for meetings will be the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

ATTEND

Honored At

Recent Party

Miss Linda Taylor, bride-elect of Mr. Bill Pearce, was entertained with a morning party Saturday, September 24th, in the home of Mrs. Waylon Nelson, with Mrs. W. H. Taylor as co-hostess.

Several games were enjoyed by the honoree and guests. Party dainties were served to Mrs. Johnnie White, Mrs. Bill Brown, Mrs. Paul Hudson, Mrs. Ronnie Ross, Miss Taylor and the hostesses.

Miss Taylor was presented with a linen gift.

ATTENTION:

We will be glad to have pictures of children's birthday parties when furnished to us by the interested party. Though we would be glad to send a photographer to take such pictures we cannot do so because of the shortage of employees and being a small newspaper we cannot afford to hire a person to do just photographic work.

Since it is impossible for this newspaper to take pictures of all birthday parties we make it a policy not to take any having the feeling that if we did take some we should have a camera and photographer available for all such parties.

But if a good picture can be furnished this newspaper we will be happy to carry it in the paper. When bringing a picture we would like to urge you to also bring the negative. Sometimes we can take a negative and get a better photo from it than the print that you might have.

We hope you will understand this problem of ours. And we do want to assure you that we would like to have the picture you bring in. There are times when the picture cannot be used because it does not have enough detail for reproduction. We will advise anyone with a picture if it can be used successfully.

ESCAPE FROM PRISON

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Never has there lived a man who accomplished all he wanted to do . . . or went everywhere he meant to go.

Time and Distance like prison walls surround every life, ultimately frustrating man's hopes and dreams.

We are told that science is finding ways to multiply time, to divide distance. A gadget can save you an hour. A jet will cut your journey in half.

But should the day come when man can live to 150, and a round-trip to the moon will be called "commuting" — we'll still be living within the same walls . . . time . . . distance . . .

In fact, the only hopes of mankind which ever reach beyond these walls are our religious beliefs. In our churches we come to know the Eternal, the Everywhere. Faith dissolves frustration.

Life is more than a quest for speed . . . a conquest of space. Come to Church — and see!

DRAPERIES
Last week I attended a Drapery Workshop in Troy. Draperies have a definite function in everyday living; therefore, we should plan our window treatment with care.

Mrs. L. B. McCall, Goodman Community, has just recently made and hung draperies for her living room and dining room. This new window treatment certainly does add warmth and charm to the McCall home. The light-colored drapery fabric that Mrs. McCall used gives a restful effect to the room.

YOUR Health

"Your Health" is presented by your physician as a health service of The Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

Coarctation

Coarctation of the aorta is an abnormality easy to recognize. The aorta is the main trunk of the cardiovascular system which carries blood from the heart to arteries throughout the body. Coarctation is a constriction, and when this happens, in the aorta there is a block to the free flow of blood from the heart.

Recognition can be speedy and accurate with the use of blood pressure recordings and by feeling the pulse with the fingers. High blood pressure in the arms with normal or lower than normal blood pressure in the legs at the same time is evidence of a block in the aorta.

Whenever possible, the cutting out of the coarctation section of the aorta is done, to be followed by union of the remaining aortic ends. There are some subjects in whom it is not only difficult but impossible to do this simple primary repair. In these instances, a homograft or some artificial tube must be affixed, and considerable success has been achieved by using plastic parts to fill the removed section of the aorta.

Particularly in older patients suffering from coarctation of the aorta, grafts are used because of increased difficulty in obtaining arterial mobility at the older ages. Also, there are degenerative changes in the aortic wall which make tension unsafe in bringing the ends together.

While coarctation of the aorta may cause for little or no complaints in the first or second decade of life, it takes a high toll in adult years and is generally a threat to health and life.

Interstate Road
Provides Scenic
View of Alabama

Alabama's longest continuous link of interstate highway has still another claim to fame.

The 95-mile route (I-59) from the Jefferson - St. Clair County line to the Georgia state line is one of the most scenic interstate segments in the Southeast.

The area between Birmingham and Gadsden is primarily low, and the flat lands have many beautiful landscape features. Winding through St. Clair and Etowah Counties, split-lane alignment adds to the beauty.

As the interstate route approaches the Gadsden - Attala area, the flat lands give way to mountainous areas. Interstate 59 crosses the north side of Sand Mountain and follows the mountain all the way to Chattanooga.

The boll weevil entered U.S. from Mexico in 1902.

Jack Native
Completes Navy
Basic Training

Seaman Recruit James E. Ziglar, 19, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ziglar of Jack, Alabama, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

Physical Training

If you want "Ole Blue" to be bright-eyed and bushy tailed" for the upcoming hunting season, follow these pointers from Extension Veterinarian, Dr. Worth Lanier.

"To harden his muscles, limber his legs and toughen his foot pads, take your hunting dog out for exercise in the coolest part of the day, and gradually increase exercise time," says Dr. Lanier. "Remember, too, that your dog's general health is important. Have your veterinarian give him a physical checkup. Worms, for example, can drastically reduce his strength. If your dog has worms, treat him before hunting season begins."

"Don't neglect vaccinations," adds Dr. Lanier. Hunting dogs are exposed to other dogs and to places where rabies virus may exist.

CONSERVATION
COMMENTS

By G. L. Edwards
and Bill Faulk

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Woodland Conservationist Bill Aiken was in Coffee County last Wednesday to help local SCS technicians provide planning information to some of the district's woodland owners. The morning was spent in the woods with Ed Harris, farm manager for Sawyer Farms Co., in explaining the best system of selecting trees for cutting in several types and ages of pine stands.

The afternoon's session was held on Stokes Haire's farm near Danley's Cross Roads. Direct seeding of slash pine had been tried on a burned over area on this farm. The results seemed to be spotted, with stand ranging from good to poor.

A 20-acre woodland area on the Haire farm has a few scattering pines in a heavy growth of scrub hardwoods and brush. Aiken suggested that the area be clear-cut, cleared and replanted to pines.

Some 250,000 acres or over one-half of Coffee County is covered with some type of woodland growth. In its present condition it is producing only a fraction of its potential income. There is an excellent opportunity to at least double this income by properly managing these woodland areas.

CANCER'S DANGER SIGNALS

The American Cancer Society says everyone should know cancer's seven danger signals. They are: 1) unusual bleeding or discharge; 2) a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; 3) a sore that does not heal; 4) change in bowel or bladder habits; 5) indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; 6) change in a wart or mole; 7) change in the voice. If any of these signals lasts more than two weeks, see your doctor at once. The faster they come to the physician's attention — the more lives can be saved.

POOR ORIGINAL

By Tom Casadov, County Extension Chairman

WHAT'S AHEAD
Several Coffee County businessmen and farmers attended an Extension Executive Committee meeting in Etah a few days ago to do some planning. These folks are helping us to take a look into the future in Coffee County. Some long-time planning took place the other night, and the various chairmen will meet with their committees in October to finalize plans and put these plans into writing.

Men attending the meeting the other night were: Ira Allen, Brown Bryars, H. J. Harrell, Johnnie B. Johnson, Howard J. Asseter, L. B. McCall, Robert Stephens, and Horace Sessions. Each of these men will be chairman of the various commodity groups.

COTTON TROUBLE
Did you realize that Enterprise cotton mills buy about three-fourths of their cotton outside the Southeast? Almost half of Alabama cotton has remained in commodity credit stock for the past five years.

This is a bad situation and Alabama and the other Southeastern states risk losing a larger share of the total market in the near future if much more attention is not paid to quality improvement.

The three reasons given most frequently for low quality of Southeastern cotton are: (1) "overcleaned and overheated in gins," (2) "the low breaking strength" and (3) "non-uniform staple length." This overcleaning and overheating in gins aggravates items (2) and (3).

SAFETY
In a few weeks a lot of young people will be bird hunting, squirrel hunting, and rabbit hunting. Even though your child has received good instruction on using a gun, it is a good idea to sit down in a quiet place and go over all of the safety factors you can think of. Good instruction on your part could save a life.

Unfortunately, grown folks take it for granted that young people know all of the rules and regulations but this is not the case. There just isn't any substitute for individual instructions by parents. Probably the most important rule in hunting safety is "Never point a gun at anything you don't intend to shoot."

AVAILABLE
We have a lot of visitors in our Extension offices each day and a lot of folks are surprised to see that we have dozens of helpful bulletins which are available free. We have bulletins on gardening, pastures, dieting, and just about every subject imaginable. Many of our bulletins have been printed in color and have been written by specialists on our Auburn University staff. As you are in the does best on heavy and well-drained soil with medium to high fertility. Recommended varieties for raising wheat in Coffee County are Ga. 1123 or Wakeland.

CATTLE SHORTCOURSE

Folks are enrolling each day in the Cattle Shortcourse which will begin Thursday night, October 13. A lot of our folks are intensely interested in this six weeks' course of instruction which will be practical and informal. Some of the top professors in the South are participating in this shortcourse. I hope that nobody will fail to enroll in this course because they are thinking that maybe the course will be too formal and dull—

This won't be the case at all. I can just about guarantee that those who attend the first night will attend the rest of the meetings. Incidentally, several young folks are planning to attend this shortcourse. We hope that a lot of the men will bring their sons with them if it won't interfere with their school work.

Private Bradley

Completes Course

Private Samuel O. A. Bradley, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Bradley, Route 2, Enterprise, Alabama, completed a sub-sistence storage supervision course at the Army Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Virginia, September 8.
